2815

Executive Order.

Under the provisions of section 12 of an Act of Congress approved May 18, 1917, authorizing the President of the United States "to make such regulations governing the prohibition of alcoholic liquors in or near military camps and to the officers and enlisted men of the Army as he may from time to time deem necessary or advisable", the following regulations are established for the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, and shall become and be effective at the end of thirty days after the publication thereof by General Order or Bulletin of the War Department:

Superseded by 40 Stat. 1135, 1209

Within the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, alcoholic liquors, including beer, ale and wine, either alone or with any other article, shall not be sold, bartered, given or served, or knowingly transferred or handed over from one person to another, and to any place within said Island shall not knowingly be, or be caused to be, sent, shipped, transmitted, carried or transported, except that this regulation shall not apply to the giving or serving of such liquors in a private home to members of the family and bona fide guests other than members of the military forces, or to the sending, shipping, transmitting, carrying or transporting of such liquors to a private home for use as aforesaid, or to the docks or wharves of said Island for transshipment in original packages and under original billing to points or places outside of said Island, or to the sale of such liquors by registered pharmacists to regularly licensed physicians or Army or Navy surgeons for medicinal use or to the administering of such liquor by or under the direction of such physicians or Army or Navy surgeons or to the purchase, retention and use of wine for sacramental purposes by chaplains of the Army or Navy or by regularly ordained ministers under the rules of their respective church organizations.

WOODROW WILSON

THE WHITE HOUSE,
2 March, 1918.

[No. 2815.]

Alcoholic Liquors