Executive Mansion,

Washington, March 9, 1874.

1874
(1)
3

It is with deep regret that the President announces to the People of the United States the death of Millard Fillmore, one of his honored predecessors who died at Buffalo, New York last evening.

The long continued and useful public service and eminent purity of character of the deceased Ex President, will be remembered beyond the days of mourning in which by a nation will be thrown by the event which is thus announced.

As a mark of respect to his memory, it is ordered that the Executive Chambers and the several Departments at Washington be draped in mourning until the close of the day on which the funeral shall take place, and that all business be suspended on the day of the funeral. 13

It is further ordered that the War and Navy Departments cause suitable military and naval honors to be paid on the occasion to the memory of the eminent citizen whose life is now closed.

By the President

William Hunter Asst.
Secretary of State.