Executive Order.

It was not intended by the exceptions contained in my several proclamations creating forest reserves, issued after the withdrawal of certain public lands supposed to contain workable coal, on July 26, 1906, and later dates, to except from the force and effect of such proclamations lands so withdrawn; and all such lands within the limits defined in the several proclamations will be held and considered as parts of the reserves created thereby.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

THE WHITE HOUSE,
March 2d, 1907.
