Executive Order

I. Under authority of the Act of Congress approved July 5, 1884, entitled "An Act to provide for the disposal of abandoned and useless military reservations" (23 Stat. 103), that portion of the right of way for military telegraph lines in Alaska reserved by Executive Order No. 1746, dated March 14, 1913, which is located between Fort Gibbon and Hot Springs, Alaska, being useless for military purposes, is hereby placed under the control of the Secretary of the Interior for disposition under said act of Congress or as may be otherwise provided for by law.

II. In lieu of the right of way placed under the control of the Secretary of the Interior for disposition, under Paragraph I of this Order, there is hereby reserved, subject to private rights if any there be, a strip of land 100 feet wide (50 feet on each side of the center of the telegraph line) along the United States military telegraph line between Fort Gibbon and Hot Springs as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the south bank of the Yukon River opposite Mission Hill and extending in a southeasterly direction about two miles to where it joins the mail trail; thence along the general course of this trail to Long Lake; thence, continuing in a southeasterly direction, to American Creek, where it crosses the winter mail trail and joins the summer trail; thence continuing in the same direction for about one and one-half miles; thence in a northeasterly direction to the junction of the two trails, from which it extends along the trail to within one-half mile of Tofty; thence in a southeasterly direction, for a distance of six miles, to the saddle on the divide between Hot Springs and Tofty; thence in an easterly direction four miles into the town of Hot Springs; thence along the main street of said town, 50 feet from the bank of Hot Springs Slough, for a distance of approximately 600 feet; and thence across the slough above the bridge to the United States telegraph office on the other side.
