AUTHORIZING THE ALIEN PROPERTY CUSTODIAN TO SELL CERTAIN PROPERTY UPON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By virtue of the authority vested in me by an Act of Congress entitled "An act to define, regulate, and punish trading with the enemy and for other purposes", approved October 6, 1917, known as the "Trading with the Enemy Act", and the amendments to such Act embodied in "An Act making appropriations to supply urgent deficiencies in the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, and prior fiscal years on account of war expenses and for other purposes," approved March 28, 1918, and the amendment to such act embodied in "An act making appropriations to supply deficiencies in appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, and prior fiscal years on account of war expenses, and for other purposes", approved November 4, 1918, and all other amendments thereto, to make certain orders such as that herein contained, I hereby, in the public interest, make the following determination, order, rule and regulations:

The Alien Property Custodian is hereby authorized to sell upon the New York Stock Exchange, at such time as to him or to his authorized agent may seem advisable, without public or other advertisement, Four thousand two hundred and twenty five shares (4225) common stock of the F. W. Woolworth Company, incorporated under the laws of the State of New York, of the par value of Twenty Five Dollars ($25.00) per share, heretofore required to be conveyed, transferred, assigned and delivered to the Alien Property Custodian as the property of Fritz Dressel, William Dressel, Albert Hartwig, and Deutsche Bank of Berlin, under the provisions of the said "Trading with the Enemy Act".

My reasons for the foregoing determination and order are:

First: That the dividends paid upon this stock are so small as to be disproportionate to the investment as based upon the current market quotations and that an investment of the proceeds of the sale in Liberty Bonds or Certificates of Indebtedness of the United States Government would produce an assured income considerably in excess of that derived from the dividends upon the said stock.

Second: That the sale of the said stock will conserve the principal, preventing possible depreciation thereof by reason of a decline in the market price and will result in the realization in tangible form of the great increase in principal by virtue of the appreciation in the market value of the stock since its original purchase and since its seizure by the Alien Property Custodian.

Third: That a public or other advertisement of the sale of the said stock or attempted sale at auction would be a useless formality involving unnecessary expense and inconvenience and would cause such a delay as to imperil the realization of a price equal to that now prevailing on the open market.
