Executive Order

Mrs. Earl W. Boone, widow of Earl W. Boone, formerly chief electrician's mate in the United States Navy, who met his death in line of duty when the submarine S–4 sank, on December 17, 1927, off the coast of Provincetown, Massachusetts, may be appointed as a telephone operator under the Naval Establishment, without regard to the examination requirements of the civil service rules.

As the Civil Service Commission can properly recommend waivers only when the procedure under the rules will not fully meet the needs of the service, it is unable to concur in the recommendation of the Secretary of the Navy for the issuance of this order.

For patriotic sacrifice.

CALVIN COOLIDGE

THE WHITE HOUSE,
April 2 1928.
