The purchaser is required to retain such invoice furnished by his supplier and to make it available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration at any time. The retailer's maximum price is the maximum retail price shown on the supplier's invoice.

(f) Labelling or posting. No person may sell or offer to sell at retail a military salvage or military scrap battery unless either

(1) The battery is labelled as follows:

"Military salvage (or scrap) battery. OPA retail ceiling price $--------", or

(2) A poster, placed in a conspicuous place at the point of sale on the seller's premises, sets forth in easily readable lettering the maximum prices for military salvage and military scrap batteries, as well as the fact that such batteries are from military salvage or military scrap stocks.

(g) Specifications for military salvage batteries—(1) Military salvage batteries. For the purpose of this section a military salvage battery is any dry battery originally manufactured and sold for eventual use by the military forces, but subsequently sold or offered for sale by any person other than an agency of the United States Government for general civilian use either in its original factory-assembled state or as a made-up reassembled battery, which meets the following specifications:

(i) Single No. 6 dry cells and flashlight unit cells are enclosed in close-fitting jackets.

(ii) The voltage is at least equal to the minimum voltage specified below for that type of battery, tested on a properly calibrated Ohm-volt meter as follows:

Type of battery	Ohms per volt	Volts per cell, or per groups of cells in parallel
Radio "B" and "C" batteries	1,000	1.47
Radio "A" flashlight and other "A" batteries of "C" size cells or smaller	100	1.47
Radio "A" flashlight, No. 6, and other batteries of "D" size cells or larger	100	1.50

(iii) Individual cells and batteries are free from (a) loose terminals; (b) corrosion; (c) loose or cracked seals; (d) leaking or distorted zinc containers.

(2) A military scrap battery is one which does not meet the specifications of a military salvage battery.

(h) Evasion. You may not evade any provision of this section by any scheme or device or by any practice which has the effect of getting a higher-than-ceiling price. Specifically, you may not charge for any service such as the installation of batteries, for which you did not make a charge in March 1942, nor may you require the purchaser to agree to purchase any other service or commodity.

This amendment shall become effective on the 24th day of June 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 19th day of June 1944.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.
