Executive Order.

Censorship of Submarine Cables, Telegraph and Telephone Lines.

No 2967

The Executive Order of September 26, 1918, relating to the censorship of submarine cables, telegraph and telephone lines, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Whereas the armistice between the United States and the Imperial German Government has removed the occasion for a strict military censorship along the Mexican border.

THEREFORE, by virtue of the power vested in me under the Constitution and by the joint resolution passed by Congress on Apirl 6, 1917, declaring the existence of a state of war, the specific restrictions imposed upon all companies or other persons owning, controlling, or operating telegraph and telephone lines in the Executive Order of September 26, 1918, are hereby revoked.

The War Department is relieved of the duty of enforcing the rules and regulations necessary to the carrying out of the telegraph and telephone censorship, and the personnel engaged shall be transferred to other duties or discharged.

This order shall take effect from date.

WOODROW WILSON

THE WHITE HOUSE,
25 January, 1919.
