Executive Order

John T. Marchand, senior examiner, Interstate Commerce Commission, may be reinstated to his former competitive classified status without regard to the time limit on reinstatement under the civil service rules.

Mr. Marchand resigned from the classified position of clerk in the Interstate Commerce Commission on March 1, 1907, after more than 17 years' service. He was reappointed November 1, 1910, to the position of attorney without civil service status, the rules at that time not permitting reinstatement for a longer period than one year from date of separation. His services since 1910 have been continuous. Examiners in the Interstate Commerce Commission have been appointed in accordance with civil service rules since 1916. Mr. Marchand has passed the examination for that position but has not been reached for certification for appointment.

This order is issued in recognition of Mr. Marchand's good record of more than thirty three years, and is recommended by the Civil Service Commission.
