Executive Order

Mr. Theodore A. Bradford may be appointed to an appropriate clerical position in the General Accounting Office without reference to the examination requirements of the civil service rules.

The father of Mr. Bradford was in the Government service from 1904 until February 27, 1928, when he was killed by a truck in the performance of his duties as a clerk in the General Accounting Office.

The issuance of this order is recommended by the Comptroller General. The Civil Service Commission is unable to concur.

For charity.
