Executive Order.

The military reservation of Fort Armstrong (Kaakaukukui Reef), at Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, transferred to the War Department by Executive Orders of January 15, 1909 (G. O. 17, War Department, January 30, 1909), and March 12, 1910 (G. O. 45, War Department, March 23, 1910), is hereby enlarged by the addition thereto of a strip of land, approximately 100 feet wide, between the said reservation and the harbor line; so that the military reservation, as thus enlarged, will include all lands and submerged areas within metes and bounds as follows:

Beginning at a point marked by an iron bolt set in the upper outer edge of the sea wall, and situated in the southwesterly boundary of the Naval Reservation, said bolt bearing by true azimuth N 38° 35′ 40″ E, and being distant 253 feet from Trig. Station "Channel", which is an iron pipe set in the concrete monument at the beginning of the curve of the sea wall; running thence S 51° 00′ E., along the southwesterly boundary of the Naval Reservation, 1,041.17 feet, more or less, to the southeast corner of said Naval Reservation; thence S 52° 23′ W., along the former southeasterly boundary of said Naval Reservation, 2,832 feet; thence N 9° 25′ E., along the former southwesterly boundary of said Naval Reservation, 1,206.87 feet, more or less, to the extension southwesterly of the line B-C of the harbor line approved by the Asst. Secretary of War on July 21, 1909; thence N 39° E., along said extension of said harbor line and along said harbor line, 1,705.55 feet, more or less, to a point on the extension northwesterly of the southwesterly boundary of the said Naval Reservation; thence S 51° 00′ E. 210.16 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning. Containing an area of 51.24 acres, more or less. All bearings are referred to the true meridian.
