Executive Order.

WHEREAS, by Act of Congress approved March 2, 1917 (39 Stat. 951) entitled "An act to provide a civil government for Porto Rico and for other purposes", it is provided, inter alia, "That the President may from time to time, in his discretion, convey to the people of Porto Rico such lands, buildings, or interests in lands or other property now owned by the United States and within the territorial limits of Porto Rico, as in his opinion are no longer needed for purposes of the United States";

AND WHEREAS, the tract of land near Aibonito, Porto Rico, reserved for military purposes by Executive Order of June 30, 1903, and subsequently transferred from the control of the War Department and placed under the control of the Navy Department for use as a naval station and for other naval purposes by Executive Order of February 21, 1916 (No. 2322), is no longer needed for the purposes of the United States, but is needed for public purposes by the people of Porto Rico and application has been made by the Governor of Porto Rico for its transfer thereto;

NOW, THEREFORE, in pursuance of the authority vested in me by the said Act of Congress, the said reservation is hereby transferred to the people of Porto Rico, the same being more particularly described as follows:

All that piece or parcel of land situate just east of the town of Aibonito, Porto Rico, where the barracks now stand, and which is bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a stone set in the ground

S 23° 51′ E (true bearing) 128.4 feet from the southeasterly corner of the stonework of said barracks building, and running thence on a true westerly course 640.3 feet to a stone; thence on a true northerly course 274.2 feet;

thence on a true easterly course 640.3 feet;

thence on a true southerly course 274.2 feet to the point of beginning;

Containing 175,570 square feet, more or less.
