Executive Order.

Paragraph 342 of "Instructions to the Diplomatic Officers of the United States" is hereby amended to read as follows:

342. Drafts and accounts to be in the currency of the United States.—All drafts drawn by diplomatic officers for salaries and for expenses in connection with their offices and all accounts rendered by such officers must be stated in the currency of the United States. If foreign currency is received for a draft, or for fees collected, it must be reduced in the accounts to its equivalent in the currency of the United States. In making such reductions a diplomatic officer will take as the value of the foreign currency that estimated by the Director of the Mint in the values of foreign coins proclaimed quarterly by the Secretary of the Treasury, unless such currency be foreign to the standard currency of the country involved, or a depreciated currency. Where a currency foreign to the standard currency of the country or a depreciated currency is received, the reduction to its equivalent in United States currency must be made at the relative value of such foreign or depreciated currency to the standard currency of the country, provided that evidence of such value or depreciation is furnished in the form of a banker's certificate. In case it is not possible to secure such a certificate, the commercial rate of exchange between the foreign or depreciated currency and United States currency at the time of cashing a draft or settling an account, which must be shown by a banker's certificate, shall be used in reducing such currency to its equivalent in United States currency unless otherwise required by the accounting officers of the Treasury.
