Temporary

4777

Executive Order

Alexander Scruton may be permanently appointed as deputy collector and inspector of customs without compliance with the requirements of the civil service rules.

This order is recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury, who states that Mr. Scruton has filled temporary assignments as deputy collector and inspector of customs in the absence of a Civil Service register, that his services have been very satisfactory and that his permanent appointment will be in the interest of the service.

In view of the highly successful performance of his work in a difficult position for more than three years, during which time frequent examinations have failed to secure sufficient eligibles to meet the needs of the service, the Commission submits the case without prejudice.
